BALSAM GROVE.

Revs. Warlick Cook, Crawford Wood and Matthis, are conducting, one of the greatest revival meetings at Balsam Grove that has ever been in this part of our country. The people of this place are deeply interested in this meeting. They have laid down their work, and are all going to preaching. The meeting will continue until next Sunday. It is reported that they will have a baptizing.

The writer attended the Singing Convention at Wolf Mountain. The people of Canada will be long remembered for the nice way they treated the people. The writer wishes to thank the ladies of Canada for the nice rations they furnished the convention. There were five classes there and they sure did some fine singing. The next convention will be at Glenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Orr, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Meadows, of Asheville are visiting Rev. M. C. Warlick.

Prof. Jerome Phillips, of Willets, was in town last week shaking hands with his many friends.

Prof. Andy Parker is teaching a singing school at Tuckaseegee.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cook, went to Soco last week to see Mrs. Cook's father who is seriously ill.

Oscar Wood, passed through town last week on his way home from Sunburst.

Curtis Wood, came home Sunday from Cullowhee.

The carpenters have completed Garland F. Wood's house. Mr. Wood has one of the most up to date houses there is in our section Mountain Times.

PRAISE TO JACKSON COUNTY BOY

The series of revival services which were begun at the Apex Baptist church Sunday, July 11, closed last night. From the beginning unusual interest was shown by both Christians and sinners, and last night the members saw the fruits of their labor when, during the impressive baptismal service, twenty were immersed and received into the church in the name of Him who likewise was immersed in the muddy waters of the Jordan more than nineteen hundred ago. Besides these, thirteen were received into the church by letters from other churches, and five by restoration, making a total of thirty eight. Within the last few months there has been awakened in this church a desire to do something.

Something worth while—to do right because it is right. Each member has heard the call to Christian duty and many are responding. The work of the past ten days should not end here, but the good accomplish should serve as an incentive to still greater efforts. The Apex Baptist church is blessed with good leadership. Rev. George N. Cowan, the pastor is an earnest, tireless worker, who not only knows how to deliver a good sermon, but also thoroughly understands human nature. He knows the weakness of men which the soul must contend with, and he knows how to fight Satan with the saving power of Christ. Mr. Cowan is an able Gospel minister, and his religious guidance is bringing the Baptists of Apex and community into a strong working organization.

To have this man of God, in his suave, yet forceful manner, hold up to sin-cursed man the eternal love of Christ, and his earnest, eloquent plea for man's acceptance of God's wonderful, yet simple plan of salvation, enraptures the mind, thrills the heart with gladness and compels men to acknowledge the saving power of the man of Galilee. The able guidance of Mr. Cowan, whose very soul is in his work, is the good fortune of the church he serves.

Mr. Cowan's sermon last Sunday night was a masterpiece. It's earnestness moved the hearts of men; his eloquence held the strick attention of the large audience, and his simplicity in explaining his text and attendant Scripture was perhaps never before equalled here.—Apex Journal.

SOUTHERN ELIMINATES GRADE CROSSING.

Danville, Va., July 24.—In connection with the double track work which it has under way in Virginia and North Carolina during the past fiscal year on 102.5 miles of its Atlanta-Washington line, Southern Railway has eliminated 54 out of 73 grade crossings. By the building of underpasses 20 were eliminated, by overhead bridges 19, and by changing the direction of public highways 15. The 19 which remain are so located as to make their elimination physically impossible as they involve prohibitive damages to abutting property.

In all construction work involving the relocation or double tracking of its lines the fixed policy of Southern Railway Company is to separate all important highway crossings of the revised lines wherever practicable. Though this policy means large additional expense, such expense is undertaken as a permanent investment for safety.

Southern Railway has also co-operated with municipal and county authorities in the elimination of many dangerous crossings on others of its lines throughout the South. It has devoted to work of this character as much as its resources and other obligations make possible and President Fairfax Harrison has announced that this policy will be continued.
